

CALIPER SERVICE

Proper maintenance of your brake system is crucial to achieve maximum performance. Brakes are not only responsible for slowing down your racecar but also play a vital role in its handling and overall performance.

Inside the brake calipers are caliper pistons with specialized seals that surround them. Over time, due to high temperatures and normal wear and tear, these seals lose their elasticity, which can cause the brake pads to not retract properly. This can lead to brake drag, increased brake temperatures, and poor handling.

At Gorsuch Performance Solutions, we offer caliper rebuild kits that include all the necessary seals and assembly fluid to rebuild your calipers. Just give us a call with your piston diameters, and we'll take care of the rest!

Maintaining your calipers with preventative maintenance is crucial to keep them functioning like new and your racecar performing at its best. Call us today at (833) GoGPSFast to schedule your caliper rebuild.
